UNCOVER THE MEANING TO CORE QUESTIONS

What is consciousness?
Are all actions determined by outside causes?
Where do morals come from? What can we know for certain? Philosophy at Huron gives you a chance to think hard about these and other fundamental questions.

In the company of expert scholars and fellow students, you'll discover what the great thinkers of the past and present have said, and develop your own reasoned ideas in response.

Learning to analyze arguments and think for yourself is exciting. It's also a fundamental skill for Leaders with Heart who must know how to think critically, ask questions and relentlessly pursue wise and just answers. It's no accident many leaders in law, business and government have a background in philosophy.

HURON UNDERGRADUATE PHILOSOPHY COLLOQUIUM

A signature feature of Philosophy at Huron is our annual Undergraduate Philosophy Colloquium, which is a day-long conference where students present their own original research. This important beyond-the-classroom learning experience provides undergraduates with the kind of experience usually reserved for graduate school.

THE HURON PHILOSOPHY SOCIETY

Open to all Huron students, this active and engaged club, funded by the Huron University College Students' Council (HUCSC), hosts film viewings, forums and social events to build community and generate discussions of philosophy.

I chose Huron because I've always had my eye on grad school and knew how competitive it can be. I wanted applied experience with really high-level academics. At Huron, you get research experience right away. It's amazing to have this first-hand experience, both on your own and as a research assistant. ”
